MAHONEY TOLD TO MOVE
SMALL CREW AT WORK AT ORE DOCKS.

Denver, July 29.—James Kirwan, acting secretary of the Western Federation of Miners, received the following telegram today from John C. Mahoney, who is in charge of the Minnesota Iron Workers' strike:

"Conditions over range look favorable. Very few men working. Armed thugs in employ of steel trust seeking to create violence."

At federation headquarters it is said that 20,000 men are on strike.

Hibbing, Minn., July 29.—Stripping and mining operations were generally resumed today and not a sign of trouble was reported.

At all of the mines deputies armed with long range rifles occupied advantageous positions and the men at work were assured of ample protection against the strikers.

At the Morris mine stripping operations were in full blast with a full crew of men. The Sellers mine was in the same position. Ore was taken from the Laura Webb, Albany, Nashua and Winnifred mines today with limited crews, which will be increased tomorrow. Stripping operations at the Albany mine have also been resumed.

In the Chisholm district stripping operations were resumed at the Munroe mine, and underground mining was also in full swing. The Robert-Kingston company had full crews working on its stripping operations at the Hillsburg mine and at the Shenango a good sized crew was working underground.

The Hartley, Croxton and LaRue mines are still being worked.

Told to Keep Moving.

Acting President Mahoney of the Western Federation of Miners reached Hibbing yesterday and went to the mine where he is leading the strikers. After a conference they drove to the Stevenson mine, but the mine officials ordered them off the location. Today they drove to the Morris mine and here Superintendent Thompson told them to keep moving. Later they stood at the Winnifred mine for a moment and then continued in the direction of Chisholm.

Mahoney said he expected to remain upon the range about ten days. He said the strike would be continued in the same way as it has been conducted up to the present time and that there would be no violence if he could help it. He deplored the presence of so many armed deputies.

action at this time so that the whole country may be advised what Ohio intends to do next year.

"I see it stated almost every day in the newspapers as a reason for the claim that Ohio has only one candidate for the presidency, that I have not at any time announced my candidacy for that office. It is true that I have never made any such announcement. A candidate for the presidency must assume, first, the great and serious responsibility of leading his party in the national campaign, and if successful, as we hope and expect to be, he must then assume the grave and serious responsibilities of administering the executive offices. These responsibilities are so grave and so serious that any man might well feel highly complimented and greatly honored to have his fellow citizens name him in such a connection, but at the same time they are so grave and so serious that any ordinary man might well hesitate to undertake them. He must be prepared to sacrifice himself, to be ready for such responsibility, or prefer at least to wait until invited by his party associates to take upon himself such responsibilities. Such a position is at least more in keeping with the high dignity of the office. Besides, the high party associates are an opportunity to declare their deliberate, unbiased and unembarrassed judgment, which he should be willing to both wait for and receive."

Announcement Not Necessary.

"It is because of entertain opinions of this kind that I have not made any announcement of any candidacy for any office, and, in view of what may be inferred from the expressions, I do not deem it necessary that I should. But this is not a matter to be settled by sentiments of state pride, commendations as they are. If there were not any differences of opinion among Republicans, state pride would properly have great weight, but today there is a wide difference among Republicans on a question of the most vital character."

"I do not refer to the regulation of railroads and trusts and corporations engaged in interstate commerce and large aggregations of capital, for at that point there is no substantial difference of opinion among Republicans, except as to the methods that should be resorted to for such regulation. I believe in such regulation and was one of the first advocates of it, but I have always advocated methods that are consistent with the constitution and the spirit of our institutions. In this connection I am happy to be able to point to the fact that I have helped, as one of the sub-committees of three, to frame and put into its present form the Elkins law, which is now universally conceded to be the most effective and expeditious statute that has ever been enacted on this subject, worth, measured by the amount of time and money, more than all other such statutes combined."

All Tariff Revisionists.

"The question I refer to is not, therefore, regulation of trusts, railroad and interstate commerce, about which, as I have said, we are all united, but the tariff question."

"Every Republican has a right to espouse any view he may entertain, and inasmuch as Governor Harris represents that such is his view, I do not wonder that he prefers Secretary Taft as his candidate for the presidency. For on the number of occasions Secretary Taft has taken pains to announce that he is in favor of an immediate revision of our tariff. I observe also that most of the leading supporters of Secretary Taft in our state entertain similar views, according to the expressions I have seen attributed to them in the newspapers, notably among them ex-Governor Herrick and the Hon. Theodore E. Burton."

"When, therefore, we are asked to commit ourselves to the candidacy of Secretary Taft, we are asked to commit ourselves to the candidacy of Secretary Taft."

BRAVE YOUNG BOY AVERTS DROWNING

David Corsey, Aged 13, Rescues 4-Year-Old Child From Ogden River.

David Corsey, a 13-year-old boy, proved himself a hero in Ogden canyon last Sunday when he rescued Ralph Flygare, the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Flygare, from the river into which he had fallen. The place where the accident occurred was a short distance above the Hermitage at the Flygare camp. The little fellow was carried down the stream for a distance of fifty feet before he was rescued. He had gone out on an improvised pier from which he fell into the stream. Young Corsey saw the accident from the roadway and without hesitating he sprang from a six-foot embankment into the water. He soon worked his way to the child and after considerable effort succeeded in getting him to the shore. The child was soon brought back to consciousness. It is said that this is the second time that young Corsey has rescued a child from drowning.

WILL TAKE DOWN POLES.

Utah Light & Railway Company Plans an Improvement.

Following the Bell Telephone company, the Utah Light & Railway company has decided to remove its poles from several of the main thoroughfares of the city and transfer the wires to the middle of the block providing that the necessary rights of way can be secured. W. M. Scott, superintendent of the company, was in Ogden yesterday and looked over the ground in company with the local agents. This will mean the expenditure of thousands of dollars.

The company will likely experiment in the block bounded by Washington and Second avenues and Twenty-third and Twenty-fifth streets. If the present plan is successful the change will gradually be made until the new system extends over the entire business district. The City Improvement league, which started the movement for the elimination of the poles from the streets, has pledged its support to the company and by its efforts the company hopes to secure the necessary rights of way.

MINER TOUCHED FOR $45.

Loses Money and Saloon-Made Friends Are Arrested.

After touching a miner named John O'Neil for $45, Thomas Brady, James King and John Erickson were arrested by the police yesterday morning. Immediately following the arrest Brady tore a $10 bill into halves, one portion he threw away and the other he placed in his mouth. The officers forced him to "cough up" a piece of currency and the other portion was found on the street.

O'Neil started out yesterday morning to get gloriously drunk. In a Twenty-fifth street saloon he flashed a handful of greenbacks in the presence of the three men. Presently the trio induced O'Neil to go to the rear of the saloon for the purpose of taking a nap. The bartender grew suspicious and notified the police. All three were arrested before they had a chance to leave the building. At police headquarters where the men were searched, $15 was found. Erickson had some skeleton keys secreted in his pockets. The police believe that they have three bad characters.

HOLDS MUNICIPAL COURT.

Attorney Valentine Gideon Sits for Judge Murphy.

Attorney Valentine Gideon occupied the bench of the municipal court yesterday in place of Judge M. Murphy, who is on a vacation. One of the first cases disposed of by Judge Gideon was that against F. L. Stanley, who stole a coat belonging to Dr. Morrell Stanley tried to sell the coat. He said he committed the theft to get money with which to buy some tools for a bridge across the north fork of the Ogden river in the Liberty district. The board accepted a proposition to purchase for $200 land for a new right of way. This will do away with the necessity of building the bridge.

Burglary the Charge.

Charles Maurites, arrested several days ago at Bingham Junction upon the request of the Weber county sheriff, was returned to Ogden yesterday. It was at first thought that he would be charged with petty larceny for the theft of some clothing from a local store. It developed yesterday, however, that the theft was committed before the goods had reached their Ogden destination, evidently while the car containing the consignment was standing in the local yards. The case is being investigated and Maurites will be charged with burglary.

PROTEST AGAINST CHANGE.

The session of the city council last evening was decided on such a note that the time was taken up in matters pertaining to the question of closing Twenty-eighth and opening Twenty-ninth street in its entirety. The proposition came before the council in a petition from the Ogden Union Depot & Railway company, which asked for the change. A large number of residents and other interested persons appeared before the council and pleaded that the petition be not granted. The matter was finally referred to the laws committee and the city attorney and the people protesting were invited to meet with the committee on Friday evening.

The contract for building the new cemetery Taft we must do it with the fact in mind that it entertains the views he has expressed on this subject and that we make him our candidate the campaign of a necessity must be a campaign for a revision downward of the tariff schedules under which the country has been brought not only to an unprecedented, but to a universal prosperity. There may be some duties too high and there may be some too low, and there may come a time, and will no doubt, when there ought to be some changes made, but in view of the results we are enjoying I do not think we should enter upon such work at this time, and I do not believe that we should credit what the Republican party has done for this country under the policies represented by the Dingwade tariff by making our campaign of next year on an attack upon that statute, especially until we have some specification as to what duties are to be changed, with reasons that are to be offered in support of such changes.

Cannot Support Taft.

"If we postpone the matter of setting our preference as to a candidate until we can go before the people and discuss this question, as we will have an opportunity to do if we select our delegates to the next convention at primaries, our respective views can be presented and the people can judge between us and the people can intelligently. I think this is due to the farmers and wage workers, as well as to the manufacturers and other business men of our state, who will necessarily be immediately and seriously affected by any kind of tariff revision."

"If we can be given time to discuss this subject, as I propose, I may change my views about it, but without further advice it is impossible for me, notwithstanding the high character and great ability and the distinguished services of Secretary Taft, to favor his candidacy. "Inasmuch as the time is short and this is designed for the public as well as for yourself and the committee, I take the liberty of giving a copy of it to the public press at the same time I put it in the mail. Yours, etc."

PARALYSIS CURED

PATIENT GIVES ALL THE CREDIT TO DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

Sorely Afflicted, He Was Cured After Ordinary Methods Failed Even to Give Relief.

There are still people who say that partial paralysis cannot be cured.

If you have partial paralysis or some other severe nervous disorder, do you think it is better to be treated by some one who insists that you are incurable, or to take a treatment that grateful patients throughout the United States testify has cured them?

A recent case where a cure was effected was that of Mr. Charles H. Gilden of Portland, Iowa Co., Mich. Mr. Gilden is a veteran of the civil war, and fought with the Eighth New York Heavy Artillery. The story of his affliction told in his own words is as follows:

"In 1898 I was attacked with terrible twitching sensations and numbness all over my body, which my physician said was paralysis and which he attributed to a bullet wound received during the war."

"I seemed to be getting paralyzed all over and finally could hardly walk. My eyes became weak and I had to get stronger glasses. I could not move the lid of one of my eyes and my face and mouth were drawn over to the right side to such an extent that I could not speak distinctly. I was also troubled with palpitation of the heart."

"In the fall of 1898 after having been under the treatment of several doctors and having tried electricity without help, I bought six boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and got some relief. After taking six boxes more, I could stand a hard day's tramp and another six boxes cured me."

This case, like numerous others, bears witness to the wonderful curative properties of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in nervous disorders. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure general and nervous debility because they make new blood. They strike at the root of these and other blood diseases, such as rheumatism, anaemia, indigestion and nervous troubles, such as neuralgia, nervousness and spinal weakness.

A valuable booklet, "Nervous Disorders," will be sent free on request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

ent bridge across the Ogden river near the mouth of the canyon was awarded to the United Concrete company, whose bid was the lowest of three considered a week ago. The contract for curbing and gutting Wall avenue from Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth street went to the Wright Construction company, and the contract for building a sewer on Monroe avenue from Twenty-sixth to Twenty-seventh street was awarded to J. J. O'Neill. Payrolls aggregating $22,406.32 were allowed.

YOUNG MAN UNDER ARREST

John Drysdale, 17 years of age, was arrested yesterday on complaint of County Attorney N. J. Harris, who charges Drysdale with having seduced a 14-year-old child on July 2. The victim is the daughter of a woman employed as housekeeper at the Drysdale home. Drysdale, the officers say, admits having attempted the assault.

County Commissioners Meet.

Jurven Judge V. C. Gunnell appeared before the county commissioners yesterday in connection with the application for a salary of $25 a month from the county for probation officers. He argued that the $20 appropriated by the state was not sufficient compensation for the work done. The matter was taken under advisement.

With regard to building a fence along the dangerous portions of the canyon from Bingham Junction to the north fork of the Ogden river, which has been suspended until the fall, when it will be completed. In the matter of the proposed bridge across the north fork of the Ogden river in the Liberty district, the board accepted a proposition to purchase for $200 land for a new right of way. This will do away with the necessity of building the bridge.

Charles Maurites, arrested several days ago at Bingham Junction upon the request of the Weber county sheriff, was returned to Ogden yesterday. Ogden Briefs.

JUDGE HOWELL HOME.—Judge Howell has returned from Philadelphia, where he attended the national convention of the B. P. O. E. He held court in Farmington yesterday, and has set the criminal cases in Ogden for Saturday.

BURGLARS GO THROUGH HOUSE.

The residence of J. C. Gould, on Read avenue, was entered by burglars early last evening while the family was absent and was completely ransacked. As far as could be ascertained last night the only things secured were a check for $2 and $4 in money.

BIG FRUIT SHIPMENTS.—California fruit shipments passing this point on the heaviest Sunday and yesterday morning of any time during the season. In sixteen hours, 139 carloads of fruit passed through the local yards. Most of it is consigned to Chicago and New York.

CATCHES AN EAGLE.—Kenneth Griffin, who is camping in Ogden canyon, captured a half-grown eagle in a cave on the mountain side last Sunday. The bird, which measures more than five feet from tip to tip of the wings, is a fine specimen, and was captured after considerable trouble.

INJURED IN RUNAWAY.—William Newey and another man whose names could not be learned were painfully injured in a runaway in the canyon Sunday evening. The horse shied and broke one of the shafts. The two men were thrown out upon the rocks, but were not seriously hurt.
